Complaints Policy

Procedures for Dealing with Complaints

At Auckland College, we undertake to provide a friendly and safe environment in which pupils will be helped to achieve their potential, both academically and socially. We recognise that sometimes things can go wrong, and parents, carers and members of the public may need to make a complaint or raise concerns they have with the school.

This policy tells you what to do if this happens.

INFORMAL STAGE

Most complaints/issues can be resolved informally and quickly by discussion with the member of staff concerned or the Head teacher. Alternatively, parents/carers can write to the member of staff or the Head teacher outlining the issue clearly.

Any complaint/issue that is put in writing should be written clearly outlining all the issues and what it is hoped that the preferred outcome should be. All complaints will be acknowledged in writing within 3-5 working days.

Parent/carers should make an appointment to discuss their concerns with the member of staff who knows about the issue or incident. If the complaint relates to a pupil, ideally the member of staff concerned should be directly involved with the pupil, for example, class teacher or form teacher.

The member of staff will usually write notes during the meeting. Parents/carers can ask for a copy of these notes.

FORMAL STAGE

There are three formal stages:

Stage 1

If a parent/carer is still dissatisfied after the informal stage, they, or the member of staff can refer the matter to the Head teacher. This can be done in writing, as this will often make the situation clear to all involved parties.

The Head teacher will offer a meeting with the parent/carer or other complainant at a mutually convenient time. At the meeting, and through discussion, the Head teacher will clarify what the issues are. The hopes of what the parent/carer is trying to achieve will also be discussed. Together all parties will agree an acceptable outcome. This should be to the satisfaction of all parties involved. These should be written down and agreed by all parties so there is no misunderstanding. Again parents/carers should be given a copy of this.

If the issue is complex the head teacher may need to speak to other staff and pupils to investigate the concerns. This should happen within 10 school days. If this timescale cannot be met the head teacher should inform the parent/carer that this will take longer, explain the reasons for this and give a timescale for when the investigation will be completed.

STAGE 2

After meeting with the head teacher if the complaint is still not resolved to the parent/carer's satisfaction, the complaint can be referred to the Directors. This can either be in writing to the school address, or alternatively the school can ask the Directors to contact the parent/carer direct. The Head teacher can also refer the complaint to the Directors.

If the head teacher is the subject of the complaint, the complaint should go straight to the Directors and miss out Stage 1. The Directors may ask for the complaint to be put in writing (if this has not already happened).

The Directors will offer to meet with the parent/carer or other complainant, at a mutually convenient time.

The Directors have 15 school days to investigate the complaint. If it cannot be resolved within this time, they will inform the complainant and explain why it is taking longer. Reasons for this may be that the complaint is complex and needs more time or someone involved is absent through sickness or holidays. The Directors should, however, give a realistic timescale for when the complaint should be resolved. The Directors should inform the complainant of when it is expected that the investigation should be completed.

STAGE 3

If the complaint is still not resolved to the parent/carer's satisfaction, or the Directors feel that it is necessary, s/he can set up a complaints committee to consider the complaint. The Directors will decide if this is appropriate.

If the Directors can resolve the complaint, there is no need to hold a Complaints Committee meeting. As far as possible it is recommended that Complaints Committees are a last resort.

The Directors can appoint an investigating officer to gather evidence and conduct preliminary interviews on the school's behalf. The investigating officer will provide a detailed report of his/her investigation of the complaint Parents/carers should be given a copy of this report. It is important that the investigating officer is seen as impartial. So, if the investigating officer is another Director, s/he cannot be a member of the associated complaints committee.

The complaints committee is made up of three members of the school's senior leadership team.

The complaints committee should meet at a time convenient to all parties. The complainant, the head teacher, the Directors and any member of staff the complaint is about will be invited to the meeting. Any person invited can bring a friend or supporter if they wish. The complaints committee will consider any written material, and also give the person making the complaint and the head teacher, Directors and staff an opportunity to state their case and to question others present. The committee will ensure that all present are treated fairly. The meeting will be minuted and everyone present will be given a copy of the minutes.

The committee will give its decision, in writing, within five school days after the meeting, along with the reasons for their decision.

If after this school-based process, the complaint is still not resolved to the parent/carer's satisfaction, they should write to the Secretary of State, if it is a general complaint, or to the Local Authority if the complaint is about the curriculum and is a curriculum related matter.

If a complaint is not from a parent/carer of a pupil of the school (an example being a member of the public) these should be made directly to the head teacher, preferably in writing.

All complaints will be recorded formally by the school in a central log.

It should be noted that schools do not need to consider complaints made more than one year after the incident/situation.

If a complaint is made about an issue that is over a year old the school will write to the complainant explaining why this is the case.
